Brad Brownell took the Dayton area and the Wright State campus by storm when he was introduced as the new Raider head coach. His down to earth approach won over fans and media immediately. Brownell was a proven winner and built the Raiders into a winner by advancing to the NCAA Tournament in his first season.

BRAD BROWNELL

2008–2009 Season Outlook

When the basketball season starts, the Wright State men's basketball team will be looking at what could be one the toughest schedules in the history of the program. Not only in the form of non-conference games against schools like Wake Forest, Arkansas-Little Rock, Miami, South Florida, Sam Houston State and Illinois State but also from the Horizon League opponents like Butler, Cleveland State, UIC, and Green Bay. No game this year will be a free pass.

To help against these foes, head coach Brad Brownell has enlisted the help of a solid returning corps to go along with several interesting newcomers. Two juniors and a senior stand out among the returners as starters from last year's 21-10 squad. Vaughn Duggins, a junior from Pendleton, Indiana, is back after averaging 13.1 points and being named First-Team All League a year ago.

Canton, Ohio native Todd Brown comes back after averaging 12.8 points and hitting 42 percent for his three pointers a year while being named to the Second-Team Preseason Team this year. Senior Will Graham fills out the starters from last year when he averaged 5.9 points but dished out 110 assists and collected a team-high 40 steals.

Duggins, a preseason First-Team selection this year, has been one of the mainstays since his freshman season and was Brownell's first recruit at Wright State. He will be looked to for his leadership by words as well as action. Brown, a member of the newcomer team in 2006 with Duggins, has been placed on the preseason second team this year.

Also back for a second season are front line players Ronnie Thomas, Cooper Land and Gavin Horne. All played significant roles for the Raiders during the season last year and will be looked to for starting roles or important time off the bench. Thomas, a 6-9 junior, played his freshman year at Duquesne and showed flashes while playing through some injuries in 2007. Land, a 6-8 sophomore, played in 30 games last year, averaging almost 13 minutes a contest. Horne is a 6-8 senior who was limited in playing time by nagging injuries but appears to be healthy this year and will look to make an impact during his final year.

In the backcourt, the Raiders also welcome back sophomores Troy Tabler and N'Gai Evans as well as junior John David Gardner. All three energized the Raiders off the bench last year with three point shooting and ball handling.

Newcomers could also play a major role in this year's success. The Raiders have three players that have never played at WSU before but two have collegiate experience and the third will be a redshirt freshman this year.

Cory Cooperwood brings two years of experience with him from Wallace State Community College in Alabama where he was selected twice as a Junior College All American.

The 6-7 forward averaged more than 15 points and eight rebounds last year. Scott Grote, a local product, was a starter at Duquesne two years ago before deciding to return to the area. Averaging almost 10 points in his freshman season, the 6-6 guard/forward will be a sophomore this year. 6-8 Kyle Pressley did not play last season but did practice with the team after averaging more than 17 points a game as a high school senior. All three will be looked to for scoring and rebounding power after the Raiders lost two big men to graduation.

Brad Brownell Head Coach

Third Season—44-20 in two years
(127-60 overall in six years)

Head Coach Brad Brownell

Brad Brownell enters his third season as Wright State's head coach and his enthusiasm for the game, practice and recruiting has never been higher. The Indiana native became the seventh coach in Wright State history on March 31, 2006 and hit the ground running. That dedication showed in his initial season as he led the Raiders to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1993.

All he did for an encore in 2007-08 was lead Wright State to a 21-win season and a second place finish in the Horizon League when some experts were picking a low finish for his Raiders.

Since his new appointment, the Raiders have blossomed into one of the top teams of the Horizon League with great recruiting classes. He collected his 100th win against Milwaukee, beaten nationally-ranked Butler three times and has led the Raiders to the most road wins as a Division I team. In six years as a head coach, he has averaged more than 21 wins a season and has led two schools to three NCAA Tournaments.

Additionally, Brownell was one of 15 finalists for the Hugh Durham Coach of the Year Award for mid-major programs in 2007. That year, he added to his resume a Horizon League Player of the Year, first-team selection, Defensive Team member and two Newcomer Team members. In 2008, Vaughn Duggins received first-team honors as well.

After his team won the 2006-07 Horizon League regular season and tournament titles, he was named the NABC District 10 Coach of the Year which covers all Division I schools in Ohio and Indiana. From day one, his focus has been on the student-athletes.

Prior to Wright State, Brownell led the UNC Wilmington men's basketball program to an unprecedented era of success. The Evansville, Indiana native brings a four-year head coaching record of 83-40 to the Raiders along with two NCAA Tournament berths. UNCW posted a 25-8 mark his final season and won the CAA Tournament, beating Final Four participant George Mason University. The Seahawks lost in overtime to George Washington University 88-85. His four-year Colonial Athletic Association record was 61-22 which was the best during the period. Brownell was twice named the CAA Coach of the Year (2003 and 2006) and twice the collegeinsider.com Coach of the Year. Foxsports.com also named him the Mid-Major Coach of the Year in 2006.

Brownell compiled five All-CAA performers, one CAA Player of the Year, four All-Defensive Team selections, one Defensive Player of the Year and seven CAA All-Academic honorees.

Brownell earned his Bachelor's Degree from DePauw University in 1991 and completed his Master's Degree at the University of Indianapolis in 1994.

Billy Donlon

Associate Head Coach

Third Year

Associate Head Coach Billy Donlon

Hiring Billy Donlon after his playing career was a no-brainer for WSU head coach Brad Brownell as success has followed the 31-year coach much of his career. Donlon, who is in his third season at Wright State after serving as an assistant at UNC

Wilmington for four years, has been an important cog in Brownell's success at both places that includes three NCAA berths in six years.

Following the 2007-08 season, Donlon was named one of the top 10 mid-major assistant coaches in the action by FoxSports.com. The story, written by FoxSports.com columnist Jeff Goodman, cited votes from more than 450 head coaches, assistant coaches and others that deal with assistant coaches on a regular basis.

"Billy has worked hard to improve his skills and talents in this difficult field and is certainly deserving of this honor," WSU head coach Brad Brownell said. "He is truly one of the bright, young coaches in college basketball and we are fortunate to have him at WSU. Billy has been an integral part of our success at UNC Wilmington and now here at Wright State."

"As a former player and now as a coach, Billy understands what it takes to build a successful program," added Brownell. "His experience on successful college teams and playing professionally overseas as well as his infectious enthusiasm will benefit our players greatly."

Donlon received one of the Colonial

Athletic Association's most prestigious honors in his senior year at UNC Wilmington as he was selected as the recipient of the Dean Ehlers Award for Leadership. The award is presented annually to the player who embodies the highest standards of leadership, integrity and sportsmanship through academic and athletic achievements.

A native of Northbrook, Illinois, Donlon began his coaching career as an assistant at American in 1999-00 and then moved on to St. Peter's for one season in 2000-01.

In May of 2001, Donlon returned to the court as the starting point guard for the Irish National Team. He also played professionally in Bourg en Bresse in France and with the Avitos Giessen team in Giessen, Germany. The Beavercreek resident is the father of a three-year-old daughter, Maren Grace.

Mike Winiecki Assistant Coach Second Year

Assistant Coach Mike Winiecki

Mike Winiecki is in his second year on the Wright State coaching staff.

Winiecki, a standout player at the University of Richmond, was on the UNC Wilmington staff while current WSU head coach Brad Brownell was also an assistant under Jerry Wainwright.

He also held coaching positions with the Spiders as well as Boston University and Campbell University.

"Mike has always impressed me with his knowledge of the game and work ethic from our days together on the UNCW staff," Brownell said. "He was a tremendous college player who has the ability to teach post play to young players. Also, his experience in recruiting the Midwest and the east coast will enhance our program. His passion for the game will make the players and staff excited to work with him."

Winiecki began his coaching career in 1992 at Richmond, serving as a graduate assistant under head coach Dick Tarrant. Winiecki played professional basketball in Portugal before returning to the coaching ranks as an assistant coach at Richmond under head coach Bill Dooley for three seasons starting in 1994-95. He served a third stint as a Spider assistant coach under Wainwright beginning in 2002-03. Prior to his most recent return to UR, Winiecki spent four seasons as an assistant at UNC Wilmington under Wainwright. He also coached two seasons at Campbell University under head coach Billy Lee and was an assistant at Boston University under Dennis Wolff for two seasons before coming to Wright State.

A native of Buffalo, New York, Winiecki enjoyed a stellar collegiate career for the Spiders. He was a member of UR's 1986 and 1988 NCAA Tournament teams and was an All-Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) selection as a senior (1988-89), averaging 17.6 points and 8.3 rebounds per game. A member of Richmond's 1,000-point club, he finished his career with 1,031 points and more than 500 rebounds. He was a member of the storied 1988 Richmond team that, as the 13th seed, advanced to the NCAA's "Sweet Sixteen." Along the way, the Spiders beat fourth-seeded Indiana and fifth-seeded Georgia Tech.

A graduate of Monacan High School in Richmond, Virginia, Winiecki was a Virginia High School Coaches Association All-Star selection. In addition, he received All-Metro and All-State honors following his senior season, averaging 23.0 points and 11.4 rebounds.

Victor Ebong Assistant Coach Second Year

Assistant Coach Victor Ebong

Wright State University head basketball coach Brad Brownell dipped into his past to select assistant coach Victor Ebong. Ebong played for the Raider head coach when he was an assistant coach at UNC-Wilmington and the two have kept in close contact ever since. A native of Omaha, Nebraska, Ebong proved to be a standout garnering Metro Conference Player of the Year and All-State awards.

Ebong ultimately chose to play his college ball for the Seahawks of UNC-Wilmington and head coach Jerry Wainwright from 1996–2000. He was a member of the school's first ever post-season team in 1998 which posted UNCW's first 20-win season. As team captain in 2000, he anchored a hard-nosed, nationally-ranked defense as the senior was selected to the Colonial Athletic Association's All-Defensive team. The 2000 team marched through the CAA tournament, beating Richmond in the final 59-49 and securing Wilmington's first NCAA Tournament berth. In a loss to Cincinnati in the first round, Ebong was named Chevrolet Player of the Game, scoring 15 points with three three-pointers and six rebounds.

"Vic always impressed me with his basketball knowledge and passion for the game," Brownell said. "Having played at UNCW, he clearly understands the system and has already been a tremendous asset to our players."

After graduating from UNCW, Ebong played one year professionally in Ireland and Sweden. After a short stint in Ireland, he was traded to the "Atomics" of Oskarshamn in the Swedish League. Ebong led the previously losing ball club to the semi-finals of the playoffs. He averaged 23.1 points per game and 11.7 rebounds before returning to North Carolina to pursue other endeavors.

Excelling as a high-performing sales rep with GlaxoSmithKline and Merck pharmaceuticals, Ebong kept his basketball acumen sharp coaching AAU basketball in and around the Charlotte, North Carolina area. Additionally, he showed great promise as color commentator for the Seahawks' television games on Comcast/Fox Sportsnet.

Ebong's two brothers, Ben and Francis, played basketball collegiately at Navy and Davidson while his sister, Nne, has recently been named Vice President of ABC Studios.

Ebong, who has his undergraduate degree in Accounting, is currently finishing his MBA at Wright State's Raj Soin School of Business

Wright State University's recent slogan has been "The New U" and nowhere does it better depict that phrase than the men's basketball program. Brad Brownell has brought a new, vibrant feeling to the entire campus. Wright State recently celebrated its 40th anniversary as an overall young university. WSU has over 17,000 students and more than 100 majors, fitting virtually everyone's needs. Construction of new dorms and updates of the engineering building and student union are currently in progress that will better fill the needs of the students.

Many schools like to quote that their facilities are the best, but Wright State has backed that statement up with action. The Ervin J. Nutter Center, now in its 18th season, sits on the WSU campus as a model for other schools. Its 10,000-plus seats see more than 200 events annually, from concerts to basketball and from graduation to truck pulls. The Nutter Center has become a hub of activity for Wright State students and the local community alike. Further proof that WSU is committed to the best opened in the summer of 2005 in the Setzer Pavilion/Mills Morgan Center. The Pavilion not only houses the basketball offices but also a player lounge, film room, locker room and gymnasium available to players 24 hours a day. The privately-funded, five million dollar facility can boast of NBA-style wooden lockers, a state-of-the-art weight room and a Hall of Champions that sets the Raider program above the rest.

THE SETZER PAVILION/MILLS MORGAN CENTER

The Setzer Pavilion/Mills Morgan center opened in August 2005 as a state-of-the-art facility that puts Wright State on a plateau that is equal to the major Division I programs around the country. Combined with academic program excellence, Wright State is at the highest echelon of the Horizon League and has the facilities to develop blue-chip student-athletes.

The venue is nearly 30,000 square feet, including a gymnasium, strength and conditioning room and coaches offices as well as locker rooms, video rooms, player lounges, and a training room.

Wright State University is committed to national prominence in both academics and athletics and this facility will only enhance this commitment.

"Passionate about the Process" are more than words to Brad Brownell, it is a way of life. This passion shows in his excitement when it comes to development of the complete player. Whether it is in practice, one-on-one meetings or in the weight room, Brad Brownell looks and preaches improvement. Results are important but the process is what college athletics and Brad Brownell is all about. Players work one-on-one with strength coach Jason Bradford in the new state-of-the-art weight room available to all student-athletes at the Pavilion. Bradford uses the room but the time doesn't stop at the door as he conducts his workouts in the gymnasium and on the road, taking pride in the student-athletes' successes. The coaching staff also shares Coach Brownell's passion for development and take a dedicated interest in the well-being of each student.

"Nobody will put more time into developing your game than our staff. The single biggest factor to our success is our commitment to making you a better player. Not only will we work extremely hard with you to improve your individual skills, but, more importantly, we will also teach you how best to utilize your individual talents within the framework of the team."

—Brad Brownell
Head Coach

INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT

"We are excited that we have been able to hire Jason Bradford as our strength and conditioning coach. His experience with the NBA's Memphis Grizzlies will have a profound effect on our program."

—Brad Brownell

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Strength and Conditioning

The Wright State men's basketball team participates in a closely supervised and scientifically designed, year-round strength and conditioning program to improve the overall athleticism of each individual player. The Raider program uses strength training, medicine balls, plyometrics, agility drills, and footwork drills to increase each athlete's strength, power, footwork, agility, jumping ability, and basketball-specific conditioning. By participating in this program, the athletes are also much less likely to get injured, and if they are injured, the recovery time is shortened.

A battery of tests are used to measure each player's improvement. Each athlete is tested at the start of the school year, prior to the season, after the season, and at the end of the school year.

With a special conditioning program set up for each student-athlete, the Raiders can use the extra strength in various ways on the court.

ACADEMIC SUPP

Academic Support Services

Wright State is proud of the academic accomplishments of its athletes. Last year, WSU student-athletes posted an average GPA of 3.0 all three quarters and the men's basketball team has a GPA of 2.9.

The athletics department staff includes an academic advisor, whose primary responsibility is advising and counseling approximately 260 WSU athletes. The advisor is here to help you do your best as a student-athlete.

The advisor:

- knows the courses required;
- knows the faculty and instructors for your courses;
- may communicate with faculty, staff, and other advisors on your behalf;
- respects your interests;
- helps you to choose a major; and
- encourages you to plan and think about the future.

Megan Watson

Academic Reporting

During the year, the academic advisor meets with the student-athletes on a regular basis to track their accomplishments. Men's basketball players are assigned an assistant coach who meets with them once a week to talk about classes. At the end of the academic year, the advisor completes an annual report on the academic progress of all student-athletes. This report is given to the coaches and the athletic director.

Working With Faculty and Staff

The athletic advisor also serves as a liaison between Wright State's athletics and academic communities, coordinating your interests with those of faculty and university staff. The advisor tries to establish a personal rapport with your instructors, learning their point of view, and ensuring that you stay focused on educational as well as athletic objectives.

Megan Watson

Academic Advisor

Megan Watson joined the Wright State athletic staff as an academic advisor in January, 2008. Watson came to WSU from Cincinnati, where she was an academic advisor for two years.

Watson, who worked with several sports at UC, including football, will work closely with all Raider athletes, specifically men's and women's basketball. Working with head academic advisor

Judy Chivers, Watson will track and monitor the academic progress of student-athletes, meet with prospective student-athletes and evaluate transcripts.

A 2000 graduate of Truman State University with a degree in communications, Watson received her master's degree in kinesiology (sport management) from Texas A&M in 2003. While at A&M, Watson served as an academic advisor and also assisted the Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) as a co-advisor.

Judy Chivers

Academic Advisor

Judy Chivers has become a stalwart of Raider Athletics through the years as she can be seen all around campus and the sporting events as well as tutoring in her office in the Nutter Center.

Chivers, or Miss Judy to most, serves as the main academic advisor for the male and female athletes, working closely with the basketball teams on progress, class selection and tutoring when needed. She closely monitors the student-athletes along with the coaches to ensure proper study technique and support is given when necessary.

In her 12th year at WSU, Chivers received her bachelor's degree in Mathematics from Northern Michigan University before starting a teaching career in New Mexico and Ohio. She recently received her master's of education degree from WSU. Chivers is married to Darwin and has two sons, Dan and Joel, both WSU graduates.

The Horizon League's primary focus is on adding value to the educational experience through its four platforms of athletic performance, academic achievement, community outreach, and personal responsibility and accountability. It is the League's belief that athletics is a powerful and visible resource tool that can be used to enhance student-athletes' collegiate experience. The Horizon League's goals are to enhance the holistic university experience for the student-athlete, to create an affiliation of institutions with similar athletic goals, and to adhere to the principals of integrity, diversity, excellence and growth.

The Horizon League sponsors competition in 19 sports – nine for men (baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, swimming and diving, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field and tennis) and ten for women (basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, tennis and volleyball). In all sports, all teams participate in their respective postseason League championships regardless of regular-season performance, allowing all student-athletes an opportunity to qualify for NCAA championships.

The League receives automatic bids to NCAA championships in baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball.

The Horizon League is headquartered in Indianapolis, the "Amateur Sports Capital of the World," with offices in the Pan American Plaza (201 S. Capitol Avenue), located a block from Lucas Oil Stadium and just minutes from Conseco Fieldhouse, the State Capitol Building, Victory Field and the NCAA national office.

A Proud History

Will Roleson, Associate Commissioner

Founded on June 16, 1979, as the Midwestern City Conference with six charter members, the League changed its name to the Midwestern Collegiate Conference in 1985 and added women's sports for the 1986-87 academic year. Charter members of the conference included current members Butler and Loyola as well as the University of Evansville, Oklahoma City University, Oral Roberts University and Xavier University. Among other current members, Detroit joined in 1980, and Cleveland State, UIC, Green Bay, Milwaukee and Wright State came aboard in 1994 in the largest non-merger conference expansion in history, with Youngstown State joining in 2001 and Valparaiso in 2007.

On June 4, 2001, the Horizon League unveiled its current name and ushered in a new dynamic direction that has brought the League closer to its stated goal of being one of the nation's top ten conferences with a focus on enhancing the student-athletes experience by upgrading the League's market and competitive positions.

Athletic Success

In the past few years, the Horizon League has enjoyed unprecedented success on the national stage, highlighted by three Sweet Sixteen appearances (Butler 2003, 2007; Milwaukee 2005) and eight wins in the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship in the past six seasons. In other sports, League teams have won at least one game in their respective NCAA Championships each of the last six seasons in men's soccer (Milwaukee 2002-05, UIC 2006-07), with UIC just one win away from the College Cup in 2007. In softball, League teams won a game in the national tournament four straight years earlier in the decade (UIC 2002, 2004; Wright State 2003; Green Bay 2005) while advancing into the second round in women's soccer three of the last four seasons (Detroit 2004, Milwaukee 2005-06). Green Bay's women's basketball team added to that résumé with a victory in the 2007 NCAA Women's Basketball Championship. Butler's Victoria Mitchell became the League's first NCAA individual champion when she won the 3,000-meter steeplechase at the 2005 NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships and then finished fourth at the 2005 NCAA Cross Country Championships.

Academic Success

Horizon League student-athletes also excel in the classroom as more than 500 have been named to the Academic Honor Roll each of the past seven semesters for carrying a grade-point average of 3.2 or better, including more than 600 for the fall 2007 and spring 2008 semesters. Forty-eight student-athletes were named to ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-District teams in 2007-08, while 14 earned Academic All-America honors, including a pair of first-team selections.

Community Service

In addition to its athletics success, the Horizon League has secured a well-earned reputation for its community service initiatives.

Each January, member institutions partner with local elementary schools for an art, music and essay contest highlighting the life of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. with winners recognized at League games on the weekend of MLK Day.

The Horizon League Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) also has continued a tradition of working with youth in Indianapolis during its annual summer meeting, while the League, its schools and fans donate to Komen for the Cure for breast cancer awareness during its annual women's basketball championship. On campus, student-athletes have raised money and awareness for such causes as breast cancer, diabetes and hurricane relief, while hosting blood drives, neighborhood clean-ups, Big Brother/Big Sister programs and more.tered in the League's Midwest footprint.

President

Dr. David Hopkins

David R. Hopkins was appointed the sixth president of Wright State University on July 6, 2006, and assumed the office on February 1, 2007. Dr. Hopkins had served as provost of Wright State University since 2003. As the university's chief academic and operating officer, he was responsible for overseeing and guiding all of the university's academic schools and colleges, and nationally funded research centers and institutes.

A central hallmark of his tenure at Wright State has been his leadership in the implementation of the university's five-year strategic plan, a dynamic and visionary document that defines the university's role in the world and its future direction in the region and beyond. By aligning university resources and expertise, Dr. Hopkins helped garner unanimous support and participation from faculty, staff, students, and alumni. Through their combined efforts, the university achieved several milestones and launched key initiatives set forth in the plan, including an increase in student enrollment; the addition of several new degree and certificate programs; an increase in external funding; increased effort to recruit and retain diversity in the faculty ranks; and enhanced engagement with government, business, and nonprofits to focus on emerging areas of need.

Provost

As the university's chief academic officer, Steven Angle is responsible for overseeing and guiding all of the university's academic schools and colleges and nationally funded research centers and institutes. In addition, he oversees the operations of the divisions of Business and Finance, Advancement, Student Affairs, Enrollment Management, Curriculum and Instruction, and Research.

Angle is actively involved in the university's budgeting process. He is also involved in the higher education compact with the state to make Ohio public colleges and universities more accountable in return for a substantial increase in state budget support. Angle will coordinate efforts at Wright State to demonstrate the program excellence and increased affordability the state expects for its enhanced budget support.

Angle assumed the provost position at Wright State in March 2007, coming from the University of California at Riverside. A professor of chemistry, he served as dean of the College of Natural and Agricultural Sciences at UC Riverside. He is a nationally recognized researcher in the area of synthetic organic chemistry. Angle holds a bachelor's degree and Ph.D. in chemistry from the University of California at Irvine and a master's degree in chemistry from UCLA.

Vice President

Dan Abrahamowicz was appointed in 1996 as Wright State's Vice President of Student Affairs and Enrollment Services. In this capacity, he supervises a variety of University departments that provide important services and programs for Wright State's 17,000 students. These include the departments of Admissions, Campus Recreation, Career Services, Disability Services, Financial Aid, Counseling and Wellness, University Police, Residence Services, Student Health Services, Student Activities, Student Support Services, the Student Union and Campus Events, Student Judicial Services, and Intercollegiate Athletics.

Dr. Abrahamowicz is a native of Lorian, Ohio and a graduate of Marion L. Steel High School (Amherst, Ohio). He received his Bachelor of Arts degree magna cum laude in economics from Cleveland State University; the Master of Arts degree in student personnel administration from The Ohio State University; and the Doctor of Philosophy degree in counseling and human services from the University of Toledo.

Dr. Abrahamowicz, his wife Kelly, and their daughter, Katie, reside in Beavercreek.

2008-09 Athletic Council

Director of Athletics

Bob Grant

Bob Grant took the reigns of the athletics department July 1, 2008 as the school's third Director of Athletics but he was no newcomer to the department or the university. The Dayton-area native earned two degrees from WSU and worked 15 years for the Raiders, honing his skills in every area of the department.

Since joining Wright State in 1992, Grant has been involved in nearly every aspect of the athletics department including fund raising and development, supervision of personnel and programs, recruitment of coaches, budget oversight, strategic planning and marketing.

Paramount among Grant's accomplishments were the department's success under his supervision in countless fund raising and development projects, such as The Platinum Seating Program, The Mills Player Complex, Alumni Soccer Field, The Schwarz Hall of Fame Lobby, Alumni Soccer Dugouts and the Setzer Pavilion/Mills Morgan Center.

Grant spearheaded athletics department search committees that have hired over a half dozen coaches and administrators including, most recently, conference championship coaches Brad Brownell and Rob Cooper from men's basketball and baseball, respectively.

Among his professional highlights, Grant was a 1994 NCAA speaker/presenter at the annual NACDA conference in Atlanta, Georgia, and was awarded the 1998 Wright State President's Award for Excellence in collaboration. He also graduated from The Sports Management Institute in January, 2006.

Grant received his MBA in marketing from Wright State in June, 2000 and is currently an adjunct instructor in the Raj Soin College of Business. He and his wife, Kim, have a daughter, Jordan, and a son, Braden.

1993 Mid-Continent Champions

March 9, 1993 marked a significant day in Wright State athletics history. It was the day when the men's basketball reached the NCAA Division I Tournament for the first time. It was just their sixth season in Division I and second year in a conference. The Raiders played Indiana in the first round of the NCAA Tournament in Indianapolis, Indiana.

2007 Horizon League Champions

14 years passed since the last time the Raiders appeared in the NCAA Tournament but March 6, 2007 marked a momentous day as WSU defeated nationally-ranked Butler for the Horizon League crown. WSU squared off against Pittsburgh in the first round of the NCAA tournament in Buffalo, New York.

Retired Number: #42, Bill Edwards

Bill Edwards

Only one number in the proud history of Wright State University men's basketball has ever been retired. That number is 42. It was worn by the programs' all-time scorer from 1989-93, as he led the Raiders to the NCAA Tournament at the RCA Dome. During his playing days he set many records, including most points in a career (2,303), in a game (45) and rebounds in a career (907). Only four other numbers have been retired by the Wright State athletics department: Joe Smith, a major league pitcher, Brian Anderson, currently of the Tampa Bay Rays coaching staff, Hylton Dayes, currently head soccer coach at the University of Cincinnati, and former baseball Coach Ron Nischwitz.

DaShaun Wood

DaShaun Wood

When DaShaun Wood ended his collegiate career, many compared his numbers and impact to Bill Edwards. Well, his numbers may not be as high but his impact for the program trying to find an identity is very comparable.

He finished second to Edwards with 1,849 points and is the only

WSU player to have garnered at least 1,800 points, 500 rebounds, 450 assists, and 200 steals. His name will be forever inscribed in the Raider record book. DaShaun recently signed a multi-year million dollar contract to play in Italy.

Vitaly Potapenko

Vitaly came to Wright State from the Ukraine before the 1994-95 season and quickly became a fan favorite as he reached the school's 1,000 point club in less than 50 games. During his two-year stay at WSU, he was named to the first-team all league both years. He was chosen 12th overall in the 1996 NBA Draft by the Cleveland Cavaliers. After spending his first few years in Cleveland, he was traded to the Boston Celtics and was a main component in their playoff runs of a few years ago. Potapenko played for the Seattle SuperSonics, and the Sacramento Kings to end his NBA 10-year career.

Raiders in the Pros

Bill Edwards

More and more former Raiders are showing up on rosters at every level of professional sports. The best known has been Vitaly Potapenko. The 6-10 forward was picked 12th overall in the 1996 NBA draft by the Cleveland Cavaliers and played for the Seattle SuperSonics after a stint with the Boston Celtics. He played last year at Sacramento.

In Europe, Bill Edwards was called the best American player in the always-tough Italian League. He has represented the United States in the 1998 World Championship Games in Greece and helped them to a Bronze Medal finish. Edwards has also has spent time with the Cavs and the 76ers.

Numerous players have signed to play overseas. 2007's star DaShaun Wood currently is playing in Italy. Among others who recently played professionally are Jesse Deister (Germany), Mike Nahar (Holland), Vernard Hollins (France), and Israel Sheinfeld (Greece).

Others have played and now retired including

Of the 51 members of the Wright State University Athletic Hall of Fame, 12 have ties with the men's basketball program.

Among the latest inductees was former head coach Ralph Underhill who led the Raiders to an amazing 356-162 record in 18 years at the helm. During that time, the Raiders advanced to eight NCAA Tournaments, including the 1993 Division I Tournament, and a 1983 Division II National Title. Underhill is also a member of the Cincinnati Area Basketball Hall of Fame.

ESPNU BracketBusters -- Feb. 20-21, 2009

ALL 10 HORIZON LEAGUE SCHOOLS WILL PARTICIPATE IN THE SEVENTH-ANNUAL EVENT

All 10 Horizon League men's basketball teams will participate in the 2009 ESPNU BracketBusters Feb. 20-21. The two-day extravaganza will feature 13 nationally-televised contests, which will be announced Feb. 2.

Loyola University Chicago, the University of Illinois at Chicago, the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Valparaiso University, Wright State University, Youngstown State University will host games, while Butler University, Cleveland State University, the University of Detroit Mercy and the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay will play on the road.

The TV games will be picked from a pool of 102 teams across the country. The field is highlighted by the return of last season's BracketBusters participant Davidson, which advanced to the Elite Eight of the 2008 NCAA Tournament.

ESPN2 will televise six games in this year's event, plus ESPN360.com will simulcast all six of those contests. ESPNU, the 24-hour college sports network, will televise five BracketBusters affairs, while ESPN360.com, ESPN's customized broadband service, will show two.

BracketBusters, named because of the success of the teams in NCAA Tournament play, will provide the 26 televised teams an opportunity to play other top non-conference opponents three weeks prior to Selection Sunday. The 76 teams not selected for TV showdowns will compete against each other over the same two days.

The 102-team field includes 12 squads from the Mid-American Conference and Colonial Athletic Association in addition to 10 from the Horizon League, Ohio Valley Conference, Missouri Valley Conference and Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference.

This year's BracketBusters pool features teams with 77 appearances in the last five NCAA Tournaments, including a team in the Final Four -- George Mason (2006), one in the Elite Eight -- Davidson (2008) and six Sweet Sixteen squads -- Butler (2007), Southern Illinois (2007), Bradley (2006), Wichita State (2006), Milwaukee (2005) and Nevada (2004).

Statement of Philosophy for Intercollegiate Athletics

The athletics program at Wright State University is recognized as an integral part of the total educational process. The athletics program is designed to contribute to the total development of the student-athlete's health, fitness, skill, leadership, and respect for others.

Wright State University's intercollegiate athletic representatives are student-athletes, coaches, and staff who are instructed on and dedicated to the principles of fair play and amateur competition as defined by the rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. It is the responsibility of the athletics administration and coaches to insure that the entire program is in full compliance with all pertinent rules and regulations.

Objectives of the intercollegiate athletics program at Wright State University are to:

1. Provide a form of student activity which is a generally accepted part of collegiate life.
2. Provide opportunities for the development of unique skills and abilities to a diverse segment of the male and female student population.
3. Provide the opportunity and motivation for participation in sports activities for a broad segment of the male and female student population.
4. Provide a vehicle which is a recognized builder of morale and esprit de corps among students, staff, and alumni.
5. Create an awareness of and support for Wright State University within the region, state, and nation.
6. Sponsor a breadth of programs which will provide student athletes with the opportunity to compete on a local, regional, or national level. Within this objective, programs will be funded and expectations generated which will provide each program or individual with the opportunity to achieve success.
7. Provide an environment in which the student-athlete will learn the value of fair play, the necessity of obeying rules and regulations, and the necessity to perform up to prescribed academic standards.

As part of a new branding initiative, Wright State Athletics has unveiled several new billboards around the Miami Valley area entitled "Raiders Represent...".

"We have much to be proud of at Wright State and my hope is that these small "points of pride" in athletics will be seen by our 45,000 local alumni and others who have helped contribute to these successes," said Director of Athletics Bob Grant. "This is a simple way to shine a positive light on the entire university. We are proud of our accomplishments and excited about striving to build on them in the future."
